•Home learning: Students are encouraged to read on a regular basis at home. In addition, learning suggestions will be sent home with each UOI. If a child needs extra help, the homeroom teacher can send suggestions of things parents can work on at home to help their child.

•As an IB school, subjects in PYP are transdisciplinary. Students will have stand alone math and literacy times, but will also have the opportunity to learn literacy and math through their UOI and vice versa.

•Snacks and lunches are provided by the school. The morning snack is a substantial meal.

•Students in EY approach learning content through play-based instruction.

•Guidance lessons are provided on a monthly basis.
